Blue Ridge Council, Boy Scouts of America	ScoutReach and Financial Assistance for Families	$6,500.00	One of our council's goals is that a family's financial circumstances will not affect a child's ability to participate in Scouting. Our ScoutReach and Financial Assistance programs are the vehicles that make this possible by bringing the Scouting program directly to them and/or subsidizing fees so a child can participate at no cost to their family.
Cameron's House of Hope SC	Vertical Platform Lift, Access for All	$10,000.00	We provide no-cost therapeutic services with a licensed therapist to all caregivers and families. Attendance has been a challenging endeavor, due to accessability to our clientele, to be resolved with the installation of a Vertical Platform Lift.
Carolina Dance Collaborative	Equitable Arts Enrichment for Underserved Youth	$8,000.00	Dance Collaborative (DanceCollab) will expand our Equitable Arts Enrichment for Underserved Youth program through tuition-free, high-quality afterschool and summer dance programming at three community sites in Greenville County. This initiative aims to improve the physical and mental well-being of low-income youth by removing financial and transportation barriers to arts education.
Center for Educational Equity	The "Round One" Youth Safety & Wellness Project	$10,000.00	The Center for Educational Equity (CEE), a 26-year-old Greenville nonprofit, proposes the "Round One" Project. This short-term, high-impact initiative is designed for underserved youth in Greenville County to reduce school violence and shootings through a unique combination of physical fitness, mental discipline, and behavioral education.
Girl Scouts of South Carolina - Mountains to Midlands	Pathways to Possibility: Increasing Access to Leadership Programs for Girls	$10,000.00	This project will increase access to Girl Scouting by engaging staff at a Title I elementary school in Greenville County as paid facilitators for a new troop of 20 girls in grades K5-5 to meet after school. With additional financial assistance provided to these girls for Girl Scout memberships, uniforms, and camp experiences, they will have unique opportunities to explore new interests, develop confidence and critical thinking skills, and practice decision-making in safe, supportive environments.
Greer Relief & Resources Agency, Inc.	Roads to Wellness: Bringing Healthy Food Within Reach	$10,000.00	Greer Relief's Roads to Wellness is a mobile pantry initiative designed to reduce transportation-related barriers to healthy food for neighbors in need in Greenville County. Through targeted mobile pantry distributions, the project will bring nutritious food and wellness-focused resources directly into underserved communities, making healthier options more accessible closer to home.
Jasmine Road, Inc.	Therapeutic Care for Survivors of Trafficking and Addiction	$10,000.00	Jasmine Road is respectfully requesting funding to support trauma-informed therapy and therapeutic programming for residents. Therapy and therapeutic activities are a critical component for survivors of trafficking and addiction to heal.
Living Bread Greenville	Financially Affordable Eating Disorder Treatment	$7,500.00	This initiative aims to increase access to specialized mental healthcare for individuals with eating disorders by providing reduced cost therapy and dietetic services. Securing $7,500 in funding will enable Living Bread to offer approximately 150 additional treatment sessions to clients who are currently on our waitlist for services.
Memories In Writing Foundation	The Memory Journal Project: Stories That Connect, Preserve, and Heal	$8,000.00	The Memory Journal Project is an innovative, relationship-based storytelling initiative designed to reduce social isolation and preserve personal histories for individuals living with dementia and related cognitive challenges in Greenville County. Through facilitated, memory-prompted conversations, participants are supported in sharing life stories that are captured in written and digital formats, culminating in a professionally produced keepsake memory journal or book.

South Carolina Children's Theatre	Relaxed Performances for Neurodivergent and Highly Sensitive Children	$7,500.00	Relaxed Performances at South Carolina Children's Theatre (SCCT) are specially adapted productions designed to create a welcoming, sensory-friendly experience for children and families who are neurodivergent or may find traditional theatre settings overwhelming. Through adjustments like softened sound and lighting, visual cues, flexible seating, reduced audience size, and trained accessibility support, these performances ensure every child can experience live theatre while building confidence, connection, and a sense of belonging.
South Carolina New Play Festival	Processing Historical and Racial Trauma through 'Josh White's America'	$5,000.00	During the world-premiere production of "The House I Live In: Josh White's America", the SC New Play Festival will arrange a series of talkbacks following the traumatic events re-enacted in the show and help audience members process and heal. Josh White was a Greenville-born folk musician who lived from 1914-1969. An early traumatic experience occurred when his father, a respectable and Christian Black man, was violently assaulted by two White Police Officers who took offense when asked to remove their hat open entering his household. Throughout his life, Josh processed racial trauma through music and collaborated on the anti-lynching song, 'Strange Fruit'. These potentially triggering scenes and songs will be presented onstage and we will use these grant monies to work with experts and scholars on both how to best prepare audiences prior to the show's beginning, and how to lead interactive talkbacks following the show that can help audiences process the events witnessed.
The Outstanding Youth Awards Initiative	Beyond the Page: Functional Literacy for Families	$8,000.00	Beyond the Page: Functional Literacy for Families seeks to deliver necessary literacy and wellness tools to assist elementary-aged students with functional literacy goals to improve reading potential outside of the classroom - where it's needed most. With the Greenville Housing Authority's backing, we request a one-year community-based literacy project gifting children's books via community book grants, promoting literacy through documentary film and media arts, encouraging summer reading, and offering family development workshops to empower youth and families in Greenville County.
The Parenting Place - Counseling and Supportive Services	Counseling and Supportive Services "Not Alone Mobile Resource Center."	$10,000.00	Not Alone Mobile Resource Center (NAMRC) will serve as the heart of our existing Counseling and Supportive Services Program for individuals who are skeptical or opposed to "traditional" mental health services and will serve as a "trauma-informed, trust-based sanctuary on wheels" (data retrieved on Feb. 24, 2026 http://www.nih.gov). Specifically, we will provide mobile resource support for individuals and/or family units to decrase the "nearly 34% of adults with a mental illness [who] don't seek out treatment due to what others may think of them" (Tran, 2024, para. 1).
Travelers Rest Farmers Market	TRFM Food Access For All	$8,500.00	To boost SNAP-EBT usage at Travelers Rest Farmers Market, our organization is funding a program called TRFM Food Access For All, which doubles SNAP-EBT dollars at a 2:1 ratio. This helps the SNAP-EBT benefit go further and incentivizes more low-income households to shop at the farmers market, helping more Upstate residents afford healthy, nutritious food and at the same time, supporting local farmers with direct sales at the farmers market.
